Poooh Busters Newsletter

Can you smell it? Spring is just around the corner and the air couldn't be fresher when you have a poop-free yard! Sit back, enjoy a green beer and let us do the work. March brings about St. Patty who once again is bringing all the luck of the Irish for Poooh Busters! We are busier than ever and we're setting records for the number of active weekly customers. We look forward to servicing all our newest customers and continue to service our long time, loyal ones. We expect it to be an even busier spring!

Poooper of the Month

We are proud to feature March Pooopers of the Month, Tigger and Maxie! This lovable odd couple will make you fall in love with them. Check them out in the Feature section of the website at www.pooohbusters.com/poooper3.htm

2008 Pet Expo

Poooh Busters is proud to announce that we are once again attending this year's Annual Pet Expo! We were lucky in the past to have our booth at the 7th Annual show back in November 2006 and we expect this year is going to a very busy and successful event for exhibitors and pet lovers alike! The sponsors have moved the show from winter season to spring and we suspect this will increase the amount of visitors attending. The 8th Annual show will be held Saturday, April 12 (10am-6pm) and Sunday, April 13 (11am-5pm) and will be located at the Big 4 building, Stampede Park. We hope to see you there! If you need further info please visit the Pet Expo website at www.petexpos.com.

Responsible Dog Ownership

If you folks ever get a chance to watch a show called "Animal Cops" please try to tune in at least once. It is a hard show to watch, it gives just a sad and very real portrayal of the different types of abuse pets must endure at the hands of neglectful and sometimes cruel owners. I've watched episodes where owners don't even provide the minimal basics a dog needs to survive. The sad part is they didn't even know or think they were being neglectful. Poooh Busters customers know what being a responsible owner means, simply by using our service you show extreme responsibility. But if you know of any pets in your area that are being neglected or abused please be sure to take action, save that poor animal and contact the proper authorities.

At the very minimum pets, like humans need three things to survive: food, water, shelter. BUT, being a responsible dog owner means more than that. Owners should incorporate their dogs into their community, be good neighbours, and provide the needs of their dogs no matter how varied those needs may be. Responsible owners realize that:

- a pet is for life
- pets require proper, regular veterinary care
- proper feeding (type of food, how often to feed, and providing water at all times)
- training through proper methods so the dog can be a social animal
- teaching children to respect animals
- dogs being social animals need attention
